

AMBC Privacy Policy

The AMBC does not use cookies to collect data from those who visit the website.

The AMBC complies fully with GDPR regulations in respect of members personal details.

Members are asked to provide contact information purely for the purpose of enabling the association to communicate details of events and to post copies of the quarterly journal, Mechanical Music World to every member.

Personal details are kept in a secure way and can only be accessed by members of the committee for the purposes above and to contact individual members should the need arise.

Any member, or members, may choose to share their personal information and details of their collection with others at their personal discretion. The AMBC will not pass personal information to a third party without the express permission of the owner.

The AMBC do not give valuations. Any qualified member, such as a dealer or restorer, may do so in their private capacity but must not imply endorsement by the AMBC.

Advertisers in the AMBC Journal and website are required to be ordinary members of AMBC. The advertising fee to be negotiated with the advertising secretary Ted Brown (T: 01403 823533).

Members are asked to contribute information for use in the society Journal (See Publications Policy). They may do so anonymously but must ensure that this is made clear when giving permission to publish.

Email and other scams:

Please contact a committee member if in doubt about any form of suspicious communication.

The website uses a secure address to ensure that it is kept free of spam etc.